Ladies and Gentlemen,

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all distinguished guests and speakers of Local Economic Development (LED) Training for joining us in this event.

Distinguished guests, speakers, ladies and gentlemen, in this conference, we heard all 6 sessions which is:

- i. Introduction on LED,
- ii. The Global and National Context on LED
- iii. Business Enabling Environment / Economic Governance Index
- iv. Learning on best practices, DELGOSEA and LED Network
- v. Breakout Session: Local Economy Assessment
- vi. The SWOT Analysis

Not only that, but we have also organized site visit earlier today, the last day of this event. I hope we will benefit from this training and build a foundation on how to organize the Effort for LED strategic planning, guidance on how to bring a stakeholder group to consensus, an important skill when determining the critical issues that form the basis of the LED strategy and concludes with defining critical issues.

We will include and engage with our people to increase their quality of life. We need a team work, together with the people and work with the people. We promote for 4P 's – Public, Private, People & Partnership. That's our commitment.

All the lesson learnt, we will take notes the best practices and your challengers as a guide for us to move forward. Challenge means start from zero, not starting from the best / good platform. That's what we are doing now.

Last but not least, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all our partners and supporting organizations UCLG ASPAC, DELGOSEA Network and MALA for choosing MPSP as the venue for this Local Economic Development (LED) training and making Local Economic Development (LED) Training happen. With that, I thank all of you for attending this training.

Thank you.
